What are we doing?

Purpose:

Become a united family that will

1. Be there for each other (which includes knowing where each of us are)
2. Support each other to grow to their fullest potential (fulfill our God-given calling for our lives)
3. Pave way for our children to do the same

How are we doing this?

Proposal when family met at Jenny nuna's on 22Sep19

- Let's put $500 every two months so that when a good opportunity arises, we can make a decision and jump on it. Let's also meet at that same frequency, in person where possible.

Risks and opposition:

- Money can break families apart – would not fit our purpose!
- Not everyone has that kind of money comfortably to be involved
- Not everyone is in, how can this bring everyone together?

Path Forward

Options / Suggestions:

Please discuss with spouses and share decision by December.

- Continue with original plan (see next slide for details)
- Put in a very small amount, like $20, and use that for family gathering purposes (trips, dinners, etc)
Pro: everyone can be in. No money/business activities involved.
Cons: people away (as in Korea) would not benefit and be excluded
- Forget this altogether... Let's just try our best to connect without any plans to bring us together

Mindset is key!

- Even though our hope is that we will make good decisions together and accomplish something great, enduring, and to help each of us thrive, we must assume that the money going in may not produce anything worthwhile. It may sit there for 10-20 years only collecting minimal interest.

Rather,

- We must make priority to be there for each other... be available, connect, meet up 1x1 and in small groups for lunch, dinner, coffee.
- We must leave the results to God. Human efforts (dependence on education, experiences, other people, etc) lead to nothing worthwhile, but when God acts, it will be meaningful (Eph 3:20). Assume Kingdom work (that God will handle), to be passed to our children

What I like

- Opportunity for us to draw closer through more dialogues with each other. We can hold intentional meetings and may lead to further dialogues together (in smaller groups, 1x1, etc.).
- Suggestions to draw us closer to God
  - Christian-based organization
  - Tithe and support those in need
  - “Please accept this offering with love, let it multiply and be used to let your kingdom grow.” – We can consider our contributions as “offering”
- The “greats” in the Bible did not know where they were going, but went in faith. This is something we can do.

Answers to Potential Questions

Money has the power to break, injure, and damage relationships	Each of us will commit to one another before money. Additionally, it is fear of risks that prevent people from doing great things. We need the proper mindset and trust in God for the results.
Not everyone will be in, how can that help the entire family?	This is an effort to try. “No efforts” in the past had left us separated. We will welcome, not exclude, any family members from participating.
How can we know that we would be successful moneywise?	We won’t. All we are committing to is gathering money together and holding dialogues over time with best ways to use our money, time, and other resources we may have at our disposal. We will trust God with the rest.
Not everyone has the money to comfortably contribute	Arrangements can be made if desired, or we can all contribute a lower amount. Please share from your own position only (not assuming others’ situations).

Understanding the risks at hand, Please confirm whether in or not by December 1.
